Pavise Announces New Market-Neutral Share Class

Mahwah, NJ – Pavise Capital Management LLC (“Pavise”), an investment firm managing an event-driven strategy focused on mid and large-cap U.S.-listed companies, launched a market-neutral share class (“150MN Shares”) to complement its existing flagship strategy (“Flagship Shares”). The 150MN Shares provides investors access to Flagship Shares’ unique source of alpha while providing additional portfolio diversification due to its lack of correlation with most other asset classes.

“We are launching this market-neutral share class in response to requests from clients and prospective clients who have expressed interest in investing with us and are looking to isolate the core alpha generation of our approach,” said Pavise co-founders Ben Lo and Kevin Lo.

The 150MN Shares will proportionately hold 150% of Flagship Shares’ long and short positions and subsequently use indexes to hedge its exposure daily.

The unveiling of the 150MN Shares signals continued growth for Pavise, which was founded in 2011. In 2018, the firm entered into a strategic acceleration partnership with a Texas-based multi-strategy firm, Satori Alpha, through the Satori XL Partnership Program. Last year, Pavise announced the appointments of Rajpal Arulpragasam as Chief Operating Officer and Steve Plimpton as Head of Business Development.
